Non-financial MoUs were carried out by the IAPSM with the Indian Association of Palliative Care (IAPC), Breastfeeding Promotion Network of India (BPNI), & Indian Institute of Public Health (IIPH), Gandhinagar. GC members were requested to add pertinent information from their respective zones.

Agenda 3: Progress, Plan and Proposals of Various Committees

The committee lead members presented the plans, timelines, and financial implications, work done so far about their respective committees and it was thoroughly discussed by GC members. A proposal for a round table on MIYCN in collaboration with AIIMS, New Delhi, and UNICEF India office received from Dr. Kapil Yadav is approved. The support of Rs. 1,00,000/- for the same was approved by the GC. It is decided that IAPSM shall carry out such round table/consultative/stakeholder meetings on its own or in collaboration with a collaborative organization and necessary budget may be approved/expenditure can be made from available additional amount from various projects carried out by IAPSM.

A brief about the Best Practice competition in Community Medicine Education and Community Medicine Practices was presented by Dr. Meenal Thakare, Lead of the committee. It is decided that a session of the first five short-listed practices in both categories is to be organized during the IAPSM National conference. Final results will be drawn after that. The organizers will be informed by the IAPSM Head office to keep slots for these 2 sessions. This practice should be followed each year. It is decided to prepare a compendium of selected best practices. Rs. 20,000/- is approved designing and printing of hardcopies.

Dr. Pradeep Kumar, committee head of the online research paper presentation has presented a concept of the STAR Comm Med award i.e. Search Talent Award in Research in Community Medicine. This competition will be carried out in five different categories. The first three winners will be given mementos and certificates in GBM of the National IAPSM Conference. Also, registration fees for the National Conference of first winner will be reimbursed by IAPSM.

The concept of connecting the Dots initiative, shared by Dr. Abhishek Raut was presented. This was the third round of activities. GC has appreciated the team's efforts and opined that further progress may be sought from the team.

GC was apprised by the chairperson of Academia IAPSM that under the Academia IAPSM broadly three activities are being planned. Preparation of IAPSM's Textbook, IAPSM e-Connect, and Online courses.

IAPSM e-Connect team has organized 13 PG lectures, 4 PG seminars, 2 journal clubs, 8 UG lectures, and 14 Citizen Health Interviews this year so far. IAPSM e-Connect had requested to the sanctioned expenditure of Rs. 4000/- per month for video editing. It was unanimously approved by the GC. It is decided that the IAPSM head office will request to organizers of state/zonal conferences to share the activities of IAPSM e-Connect for awareness generation and active participation. It was decided that the draft would be prepared by Dr. Medha Mathur. It is suggested by the GC to explore the international collaboration opportunities by the e-Connect team.

GC was apprised that this year third edition of IAPSM's Textbook will be published. Also, two proposals; a textbook on "Case based learning in Community Medicine" from Dr. Purushottam Giri and "Research Methodology" from Dr. Rashmi Kundapur have been received. It is decided that they will be released in the upcoming 51st IAPSM's National Conference at Mangalore along with the third edition of IAPSM's textbook in Community Medicine. The formula for revenue sharing will remain the same as is for IAPSM's Textbook decided in the GBM at Shimla i.e. 1/3 will be for Academia IAPSM activities, 1/3 for IAPSM head office expenditure, and 1/3 will be distributed amongst the editorial team as suggested by the book's editor-in-chief.

It was apprised that IAPSM has subscribed Learning Management Software (LMS) and its application can be downloaded from the Google Play Store as Academia IAPSM. Two online courses 1) Research Methodologies and 2) Foundation Course on Healthcare Leadership are launched and IAPSM has received seven more proposals for various online courses from its IAPSM's members. Brief of the course are as below.

It was shared with the GC members that these all courses will be implemented in collaboration with IIPH-G except the course on Basic in Health Management, which will be implemented in collaboration with the PGIMER, Chandigarh.

It was proposed that fees will be received by the collaborative institutes. The finance sharing for amount received through each course will be as below.

| Sr. No. | Particulars | Revenue Share distribution |
|---------|--|----------------------------|
| 1 | GST payment | 18% |
| 2 | Institution overhead IAPSM | 15% |
| 3 | Institutional overhead IIPHG / any other collaborative organization | 15% |
| 4 | Share with the course coordinators/resource persons/content developers. This will be distributed as per the written request from the course coordinator. A minimum of three signatures in the written request should be there. | 52% |

It was unanimously approved. Also, it was recommended that there should be 5-10% less fees for IAPSM member participants. Also, it is approved that any special expenditure may be separately calculated and share may be calculated taking into account the GST as well. IIPH-Gandhinagar / Collaborative Institute will be primarily responsible for all financial management including GST submission. IAPSM will be responsible for the provision of LMS and providing program coordination support. It was also approved that we may take the dedicated services for program associates on a consultancy basis. The hired program associate may be paid consultancy up to Rs. 6000/- per month per course.

Foundation Course on Leadership in Public Health (FLPH) is a hybrid course with an onsite session as a part of the course, will have 10% as Institutional overhead IAPSM, 15% Institutional overhead IIPHG, and 57% be with the course coordinators/resource persons/content developers. This will be distributed as per the written request from the course coordinator. A minimum of three signatures in the written request should be there and this will be done in consultation with the President and Secretary General of IAPSM.

Dr. Medha Mathur, lead for the IAPSM blog has shared progress about the Blog on www.iapsm.org. 'Blog IAPSM' was launched by the GC. All GC members are requested to share blogs and disseminate them with the members of IAPSM.

SOPs for the IAPSM Young Leaders Conclave were presented by Dr. Shib Shekhar Datta on behalf of the committee. The same was approved. GC has suggested that it can be conducted in hybrid mode. The age criteria for delegates will be equal to or less than 35 years. Also, it is decided to have youth chapters/council. The same committee was entrusted to develop the guidelines for it.

Dr. Krupal Joshi presented a draft of the e-Newsletter. GC member suggested including activities carried out under the banner IAPSM only. Individual member activities should not be included except if it is an extraordinary achievement or recognition of the member is there. It is decided if the required services of a professional may be hired for designing the professional and some copies of the e-Newsletter may be printed for distribution to the important stakeholders.

SOPs for the state conference were presented by Dr. Annarao Kulkarni, President Elect, IAPSM. SOPs were approved by the GC, IAPSM with a suggestion that institutional PAN Card should be used for the organization of the conference, and in case state chapters' PAN card is used, there should be undertaking and compliance for all taxation liabilities by the organizing chairperson and organizing secretary.

A report by the Adult Immunization Committee was submitted by Dr. Madhu Gupta, Professor, PGIMER, Chandigarh. According to that, she has suggested subcommittees for conducting academic activities, and organizing meetings and webinars, conducting research, developing guidelines and position papers, and policy briefs.

Dr. Hemangini Shah has submitted an outline for the position paper on “Family Adoption Programme”, The team was involved and has asked for a 2-month time period to complete the activity.

The organizers of IAPSMCON2023 have communicated the reasons for the delay in getting the audited account statement and refund to the IAPSM Head office and requested more time to submit the same. It was decided by consensus that the organizers of IAPSMCONs should submit the audited account statement by 31st December each year.

Agenda 6: Revision of the criteria for the Star Performance Award:

It is decided that for the criteria no. 7 according to old criteria, new members registered last year (To be added by Head office) may be revised where in new members / total PG seats can be the scoring criteria, the proportion can be scored from 0 to 10. Also, for the organization of CME, a celebration of health-related days and events, 2 marks for event held may be given. Maximum will be ten marks. The proportion of medical colleges that participated to the total number of medical colleges in that state / zone will be considered and converted to score between 0 to 10.

Agenda 7: Criteria for Presidential Appreciation Award:

It was felt that streamlining of the Presidential Appreciation Award is needed. Based on the discussion it is decided that a maximum of eight Presidential Appreciation Awards should be given each year. It should be given based on the contribution of the IAPSM members to the National IAPSM in a given year. The president can decide on the eight names and will put them to the GC for endorsement with objective justification. The awardee should have significantly contributed to the National IAPSM activities for the year and should be less than or equal to 45 years of age. He/she should not be a GC member of IAPSM/ IJCM editorial board member. Members who have once received the Presidential Appreciation Award cannot be given the Presidential Appreciation Award for the second time.

He has to induct two iapsm members as his co-panel members who are acquainted with the procedure.

Agenda 10: Presentation of IAPSM Bank account statement and financial assets by Treasurer Dr. Manish Rana:

It is resolved all the amount received from the Membership fees should be invested in Fixed deposit and mutual Fund as approved proportion i.e. It was unanimously decided by all GC members that 1/3rd of the savings should be done in the FD, 1/3rd in the balanced fund, and 1/3rd in debt funds. It is suggested that a Mutual funds that gives an annual NAV increase fund should be preferred for investment. Also, it is decided state share which was not given to the state because of non-pan availability or any other reasons may be separately invested so that the same can be paid to the state as the demand arises after completing the necessary documentation and opening of a separate account and PAN card, etc., A Chartered Accountant/investor banker should be consulted for better guidance.

Agenda 11: Technical and financial report of IJCM by Chief Editor Dr. Pankaj Bhardwaj

The chief editor Dr. Bhardwaj presented the technical and financial report of IJCM. He told that, for the first time, IJCM has received an impact factor. GC has congratulated the team for their efforts. A request for inducting a person/staff at 30,000/- monthly basis was approved by the GC. It is decided that the services of such a person (consultancy) are to be hired rather than employing the person. It was approved by the GC.

Agenda 12: Update on Preparations for 51st Annual National Conference of IAPSM to be held in KMC, Mangalore in February 2024:

It was presented by the Organising Secretary of the institute and it was decided to give the organizers the option of having the conference in hybrid mode. The number of registrations from many states is still not up to the expectations. All GC members should make an effort to improve registrations for the upcoming IAPSM Young Leader Conclave and the Annual National Conference of IAPSM.

Agenda 13: Orations in the IAPSM Young Leaders' Conclave:

It is decided that we may continue the award of Dr. Sushila Nayar Young IAPSM Orator instituted in the IAPSM Young Leader's conclave but a method for accepting nomination and selection should be fixed as per the oration being carried out. Dr. Shib Sekhar Datta was entrusted responsibility of developing the method and criteria for inviting nomination and evaluation.

Agenda 14: Any Other Issues with Permission of Chair:

1. IAPSM office space should be taken on lease/rent or with the support of some collaborators like the Melinda Gates Foundation or others. It should have a minimum of two support staff, 1 technical/clerical, and 1 support staff to maintain the surroundings clean. It should have a dedicated landline telephone connection.
2. Looking into the post-COVID increase in the travel cost and financial condition of the IAPSM, it was decided that travel support to be increased for attending the GC meeting. It is decided to reimburse up to Rs. 15,000/- or the actual amount incurred for travel based on the receipts provided by them whichever is lesser in amount. Exception as permitted in the constitution will remain the same.

Lastly, Dr. Purushottam Giri thanked one and all for having a good detailed deliberation and productive discussions. The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks to the chair.

With warm regards,

Dr. A. M. Kadri
