INVITATION

It is a great pleasure and honour to announce that the Delhi State Chapter Conference of the Indian Association of Preventive and Social Medicine (DELHI-IAPSMCON 2026) is being hosted by the Department of Community Medicine, Maulana Azad Medical College, New Delhi, on 22nd and 23rd December 2026, along with Pre-conference workshops on 21st December 2026.

DELHI-IAPSMCON 2026 will bring together eminent public health professionals, academicians, researchers, and policymakers from across the region to engage in meaningful scientific deliberations and collaborative discourse aimed at advancing Public Health and Health Systems in India.

The theme “Advancing Public Health and Health Systems for Viksit Bharat 2047” underscores the imperative to strengthen health systems, embrace evidence-based strategies, and build the public health capacity that a developed India will need-placing prevention, equity, and primary care at the centre of that vision.

The academic programme opens with pre-conference workshops on 21st December 2026, followed by the main conference on 22nd and 23rd December 2026.

Hosted in the nation's capital-Delhi, a city where centuries of heritage meet the decision-making centers and institutions that shape national health policy & health systems. The conference promises an intellectually enriching academic experience complemented by warm Delhi hospitality.

We cordially invite you to join us at DELHI-IAPSMCON 2026 to be a part of and enrich this distinguished academic endeavour.

Warm Regards, Organising Committee

ABOUT US

Organising Institute:

Maulana Azad Medical College is a premier government medical institution, established in 1958. It has been recognised for its excellent medical education and healthcare delivery.

MAMC continues to uphold the values of excellence, compassion, scientific enquiry and service to society while embracing emerging challenges and innovation in healthcare and public health.

Located in the heart of New Delhi, MAMC is supported by a network of major teaching hospitals providing a diverse and extensive academic experience to the students, residents and faculty.

Organising Department:

Department of Community Medicine at MAMC has a strong tradition of academic excellence, public health research and community-oriented healthcare provision. The department currently operates 5 training centres and provides healthcare and community-based services to a population of approximately one lakh across the National Capital Territory of Delhi.

Through its field practice area, the department provides opportunities for teaching, training, research and implementation of public health interventions, addressing the evolving needs of urban and underserved populations.

DELHI: THE CAPITAL OF HERITAGE

Delhi, the vibrant capital of India, is all set to host DELHI-IAPSMCON 2026!

A city where centuries of history stand alongside the institutions that shape the nation's health policy, Delhi offers the perfect setting for meaningful academic exchange and professional networking.

Known as the City of Seven Cities, Delhi is home to magnificent architectural marvels like the Qutb Minar, Humayun's Tomb, and the Red Fort - three UNESCO World Heritage Sites within a single city. With its well-planned civic layout, world-class medical and research institutions, rich composite culture, and warm hospitality, the city promises an immersive and memorable experience.

Just a short drive away lies Agra, home to the Taj Mahal, one of the Seven Wonders of the World. The serenity of Rishikesh and the temple town of Mathura–Vrindavan are equally within reach, adding a unique cultural and spiritual dimension to the Delhi experience.

Delhi, a state of decision making, includes the Ministry of Health & Family Welfare, as well as a host of premier national institutions and think tanks.
