

IAPSM - Public Health Infographics (IPHI)

WHAT'S NEW

Social Media Engagement

Approved infographics will be shared on various social media platforms, where creators of infographic will be tagged to foster recognition for their contributions.

The graphic features a light blue background with a laurel wreath on the right. In the center, three people are on a podium: a man in a purple suit holding a trophy, a woman in a purple dress holding a star, and another man in a purple suit holding a framed certificate. Below the podium, a hand holds a trophy and a blue ribbon. Confetti and a party horn are scattered at the bottom left.

Annual Recognition

Each year, the top two infographics from each category will receive special recognition at national conference of IAPSM to promote continued participation and excellence.

Infographics on various themes related to recent public health innovations or public health challenges may be used in IAPSM activities with proper credit attributed to the creators.

Sustainable Infographic Repository

Creation of an online repository to store, access and share all infographics, serving as a central hub for high-quality public health visuals for educational and outreach use.

Feedback Mechanism

Introduction of a feedback system for users to rate and comment on infographics will offer insights to guide future infographics development.
